Experience

Escrow.com

Managed features from MRD to completion; researched market space, improved site usability to reduce customer support overhead and increase revenue; wrote functional specifications for use by QA and developers; worked with customer support to improve the customer experience.

Orbitz

Designed user experience process flows and screens of two content sections and help for a major internet travel site.

Stamps.com

Managed and designed features based on marketing requirements; wrote functional specifications for use by QA and developers; performed usability studies and focus groups to determine new features and improvements to the user interface.

BuyersEdge

Designed the information architecture and manage the development lifecycle of a reverse auction website. The website worked on the request quote model based on product information (similar to AutoByTel). Sellers competed to give the lowest price.
